

Who we are...

Biography: Beth Cowan

Ms. Cowan began her professional career sixteen years ago in the offices of Maguire Thomas Partners after receiving her degree from Pepperdine University. In 1989 she accepted the challenging assignment of overseeing the renovation and retrofit of the Century Plaza Hotel (completed while fully occupied) while concurrently acting as JMB/Urban Development's Tenant Improvement Coordinator. She then moved on to act as JMB Properties Director of Tenant Improvements responsible for all work in Southern California, Phoenix, AZ, and Houston, TX. Subsequently she worked with PM Realty Group and the McGregor Company before joining Planning Partners in 1999 as an Associate. Through these experiences she has firmly developed her knowledge and skills with all building planning and construction phases. This has been recently exemplified by the successful completion of the Davis Research Building at Cedars Sinai Medical Center, on which Ms. Cowan was the project manager for the interior build out.

Ms. Cowan's ability to bring talented individuals together to work as a cohesive team is one of her most respected managerial skills. Combined with her proven ability to coordinate multi-tasked and/or complex projects, she has built a reputation as a skilled and effective manager. Her projects range in type and size from small tenant improvements to multi-million dollar commercial and institutional re-developments, and include restaurants such as the acclaimed Spago / Beverly Hills, and custom residential estates.
